

1. This is a "module".
2. This is another "module".
3. And another.

This is a "module".

Modules are where the content is put.

This is another "module".

Modules should be about two pages long, and stand on their own.

And another.

It is hard to know how many examples of modules to make when the target audience is made up of dummies. Hopefully three (3) is enough.